QUICK REFERENCING GUIDE

How to cite a printed text:

Author [Surname, initial]. (year of publication). Title: subtitle. Publisher, Place of publication.

Example:

If your source is a separate chapter or article within a book, you can put the title of the article/chapter in quotation marks before the italicised title.

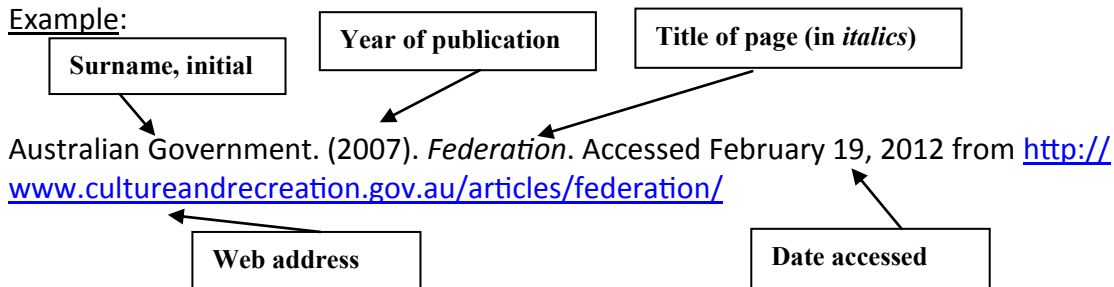

Example:

Brown, D. (1978). "Significant people". The Bodley Head Archaeologies: Anglo-Saxon England. Penguin Publishing, Sydney, pp123-145.

How to cite a website:

Author [surname, initial]. (date). Title of website. Retrieved, Month date, year from website address

Example:

Some websites don't have a date or an author. If they don't, skip the author of the website and write (n.d.) for no date.

Example:

(n.d.) Federation. Retrieved, February 19, 2012 from <http://www.cultureandrecreation.gov.au/articles/federation/>

How to cite a picture:

Author [Surname, initial]. (date). Photograph title. Retrieved, month date, year from website address

Example:

Dalbera, J. (2009). La tombe de Horemheb (KV.57). Retrieved February 17, 2014 from <http://www.fotopedia.com/items/flickr-2079675065>

There are many other options for citation styles, depending on the source material. If you need additional support, please see Ms Rodgers in the library.
